We are looking for a Senior Controller to our Finance team in Stockholm

Ottobock is in the middle of an exciting and expansive development phase. We are now recruiting a business oriented Senior Controller to our region with primarily focus on our operations in Sweden.

Your future challenge

You will be responsible for controlling activities with primarily focus on our Swedish market. Together with the regional Finance Director and in close cooperation with the local Finance teams you will lead the financial planning, processes, perform monthly and quarterly business reviews, and ensure reporting compliance to standards and policies. With a business oriented approach you will support the business units and other stakeholders with financial analyses, decision support and financial guidance in the day-to-day business. You will also be involved in different improvement projects within finance as well as cross-functional.

Our offer

We offer you a challenging role with responsibility, flexibility and possibilities to influence current procedures. You will act in a dynamic international environment focusing on our regional and local business with a wide network of stakeholders across the organization. In your assignment you will deal with strategic as well as operative topics in close cooperation with the business. You will be located in Bergshamra, Stockholm and report to the regional Finance Director.

Your background

You hold a university degree within finance and have a solid background in the area of controlling with at least 5 years' experience from relevant assignments. Past experiences from international companies are highly meritorious. Fluent in Swedish and English, spoken and written.

As a person, you are ambitious, energetic, driven by results and looking for potential improvements within your field. You have the ability to approach matters combined with both a financial and a business oriented perspective. You have respect for deadlines, and take on responsibility for your daily work and projects. At the same time, you value quality and you understand the importance of details. You also understand the importance of communication and cooperation with other functions within the business.
